

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	11
THE THIRTEEN STANZAS	19
EXPLANATION OF THE STANZAS
I Man's desire for happiness: on her own the soul of "good will" blindly seeks the lost happiness where it is not – in the creature rather than in the Creator.	29
II The Guide: God places at your disposal a "Vehicle," the Spirit of Truth and Goodness, who alone can take you back to Him.	35
III Obedience to the "Voice" of the Guide: obey the voice of your conscience regardless of the consequences, and think of nothing else.	37
IV Faith in the Guide: do not analyze or judge the ways of the Spirit of Truth—trust your conscience even though you make mistakes.	39
V A time of testing: in a forced situation of suffering, do not abandon your conscience to follow the way of convenience in order to free yourself from the suffering.	47

- VI Falling in the temptations: if you fall, repent at once with heartfelt sorrow, thinking only of your Guide who will lift you up. 51
- VII The purification of the senses: when life becomes a dark, never-ending agony, surrender yourself to the action of the Invisible Guide who is purifying your senses of their attachments. 57
- VIII The purification of human love: the Guide takes away your sentimental attachments to creatures in order to prepare your heart so that Love alone may rest in it. 63
- IX Foretaste of the mystical death: the Baptism of self-denial” dying to your disordered passions, you unite yourself to the Immaculate Victim who begins to offer your self-sacrifice to the Father. 75
- X Foretaste of the Resurrection: a “Tabor experience”: rest in the joy without becoming attached to it, drawing closer to Jesus and Mary through prayer and solitude. 81
- XI The “Gethsemane” moment of decision: choosing to enter into the Cross of the Redeemer, accepting the chalice of the Father's Justice: “Not my will but Thy Will be done.” 87

XII THE CRUCIFIXION AND DEATH OF THE EGO, THE "OLD MAN" : with your gaze fixed on God alone, the sword of Divine Justice severs all your attachments to self and creatures: freely dying for Him who died for you in order to give you the Life	93
XIII THE RESURRECTION TO THE DIVINE LIFE, THE "NEW MAN" : "I," in Christ Arisen: living each "moment-situation" according to the Divine Will in a perfect communion of love with God.	95
Index of Biblical citations	97