

Action and Life Publications

books for the spiritual Realization of Humanity

ACTION & LIFE Publications is a non-profit association of persons who have been moved to freely collaborate in publishing and distributing the English translation of the “New Earth” series and other related works, which can contribute to the spiritual Evolution and Realization of Humanity.

ACTION & LIFE also distributes their original Spanish editions as well as their Italian translations.

The Author has expressed her written consent and approval that all the books of the “New Earth series” be presented and distributed through appropriate means, including the Internet:

With the present document I grant Francis Elmo and Giuseppe Napoli the right and responsibility to translate into English, as a team, all my writings in relation to the “Message to the men of the New Earth” and to supervise the publication of the books and the form and contents of their promotion through the means they consider appropriate, including the Internet, so that the Message of the Lord may reach all the souls of good will.

May the Holy Spirit assist them in their decisions and realizations so that they may always be in conformity with the Will of God.
